

BLOOMIK

Bloomik is a creative and post-production studio based in Bologna. Born in 2013 from a freelance network, in 2022 it becomes a company that mainly deals with 2D / 3D animation and visual effects for movies and advertising. He constantly collaborates with film production companies, communication agencies, directors and companies. He has acquired the know-how to develop projects at every level, helping clients transform their ideas into effective solutions through the entire creative process, from supervision, to realization and finalization. It is present in all phases of the creation of an audiovisual product, from pre-production (creative development, storyboarding, scene analysis and tests), to production (organization of slight shootings, creation of graphic assets and illustrations, vfx supervision on set) to post-production (2d and 3d animation, compositing and vfx), up to delivery for TV broadcasters and cinemas.

The main sectors in which it operates are cinema, advertising, social media and corporate/industrial communication. The clients with whom Bloomik works are mainly communication agencies, post production studios, production houses, companies and individuals, collaborating with the most important Italian companies in the audiovisual sector.
