INTERESSI E DATI PERSONALI

Alongside my professional activity, I am currently attending the fourth year of Psychology at the UNAD, an open and distance learning university with a focus on tools for personal and intellectual growth for professional and private purposes. I am a person who respects life and work; I am responsible and I like to have goals and aspirations. In particular, I am proud of my work as a designer and as a teacher. I try to carry out my work with creativity and a sense of responsibility, in teaching as in the creative and professional fields.
