

Dear Sirs,

My personal work path has been greatly influenced by my upbringing in the U.S.A. as a child and subsequently by my transfer to Europe where I received my higher education.

My education and experience has brought me to be occupy the role of Dialogue Coach for the film industry. A particular note on Robert Moresco's film on Ferruccio Lamborghini where dialogue required particular attention as the actors were of different nationalities and different areas of Italy.

My job revolves around meeting the acting necessities of the actors together with production and director needs.

Particular attention is given to verbal training of the actors' so to achieve the desired pronunciation and spontaneity required by the roles.

Cordially,

Francesco Gorga
