

I am a documentary filmmaker, director and screenwriter. I share almost all my artistic production with Michele Mellara, with whom I have been writing and directing for many years. Among our best-known works are the fiction film "Fortezza bastiani" 2002 (Solinas Award for Best Screenplay and finalist at the David di Donatello Awards) and the documentaries "Le vie dei farmaci" 2007 (Best Italian Documentary at Torino CinemAmbiente) "La febbre del fare" 2010 (Film d'Archivio Award at the Rio de Janeiro Festival), "God save the green" 2012 (Cinema del Reale Award); "Vivere che rischio" 2019 (Audience Award Biografilm Festival; Best Documentary at Raw Science Film Festival and Academy Award Selection for Oscar Best Documentary) and "50 Santarcangelo festival" 2020 (Venice Days Venice 2020). Our films have been screened worldwide and broadcast by television stations in over 50 countries. I am a founding partner of Mammut Film, one of the leading documentary film production companies in Emilia-Romagna. In 2022 I published a book of poems "Poesiole del foreste" for Italic Pequod Editore.
