3D enthusiast and visual storyteller lover based in Bologna, I always worked and cultivated my passions, I traveled around the world and I love meeting new people, have new experience and learn new thing, doesn't matter if is about my surrounding, culture or new software.

I had the chance to do a variety of jobs and learned how teamwork help and saw different scenario and did my best to overcome problems or find better and faster way of execution.

I'm really excited to refine my skills and progress and overcome new challenges.
