Project Management

The “culture of the design” is the real strength of our organisation

A proven experience in the operational planning and thanks to the use of the most qualified design and visualization systems, our team of creative designers and specialised technicians can design, simulate and develop solutions for any direct communication activities.

The constant attention to our customer's objectives, the ability to interact with both internal and external factors, the flexibility and timely responses are the key points to achieve the best possible result.

They represent the “modus operandi” of the Project Management according to the CONTEST policy.

ShoWorks

Established as the Contest's "operating unit", SHOWWORKS deals with the manufacturing, logistics and construction site activities, by managing directly the production, the warehouse facilities, the furnishings for rental, the storage of customer's materials, the vehicles, the personnel and the equipments. Our qualified staff is constantly present at every stage of the construction process until the delivery of the "turnkey" work. SHOWWORKS also provides all the technical and integrated services needed to fully manage the event.

Easix

Designed and manufactured by CONTEST, the original EASIX system is a set of modular and integrated structures that meet multiple installation needs, leaving to the designer the widest expressive freedom in the layout development. Its special cylindrical joint allows the creation of uniform surface walls and variable geometry, for the simple and fast set-up of exhibition spaces, as well as of temporary storage facilities for offices, shops and laboratories.

RescueSystems

Being "Problem Solver" also means dealing and solving particular problems which requires also unconventional answers. Created by our cooperation with the biomedical industry, the RESCUESYSTEMS operating unit develops "ad hoc" solutions to make health and medical emergencies devices available to the public, making them recognizable and easily identifiable.
