

CURRICULUM "MECLIMONE FILM PRODUCTIONS S.r.l."

"Meclimone film productions" was born in November 2013.

The legal representative is Davide Montecchi, who for over a decade has worked in video as a director and editor. "Meclimone" is the first word he spoke when he was a child, and it is the name he instinctively felt belonged to his production company, founded to shoot his first feature film.

The company produced in 2016 the thriller "In a lonely place", a feature film shot in English and designed for the international market.

The feature film in Italy got a good response from critics, who pointed out it as one of the most promising debuts of 2017.

The film was dubbed in Italian and has been distributed since October 2018 by Cine-Museum Independent on DVD, blu ray and limited edition in Italy and the rest of the world. The film was also released on Amazon Prime Video ITALY, USA and UK.

In 2018 Meclimone co-produced, together with Summerside International and Kairos S.r.l., the documentary "In defense of the sacred images. A journey to discover the Rimini painting school of the '300" by Davide Montecchi, which had an excellent audience response in the preview evenings at the Cinema Fulgor in Rimini. Also distributed on chilitv in Italy and Amazon Prime Video USA and UK.

In 2020 Meclimone produced the short film "La Fellinette", directed by Francesca Fabbri Fellini. The work represents the birthday gift that Francesca Fellini, niece of Federico Fellini, dedicates on the occasion of the Centenary to the Master. The short film was financed by the MIC and the Emilia Romagna Film Commission, as well as presented in world premiere at the Rome Film Festival 2020. The short film received the Special Award 75 to the Nastri d'Argento 2021. The film was recently purchased by Sky and is currently available on Now TV.
