SIGNUM is a production company active since 2001.

It has a dual vocation: on one hand, the production of strategic corporate and commercial videos for companies and multinationals; on the other hand, it focuses on artistic projects such as cinematic productions, feature films, TV series, music videos, and documentaries.

The company is distinguished by a deep specialization in post-production and visual effects, aiming to align with the highest standards of the audiovisual industry. It combines creativity and technical expertise to create strategic content that meets specific needs, both in corporate communication and cinematic production.

SIGNUM manages the entire production process, from ideation and storytelling development to production and post-production, supporting the creation of cinematic narratives, music videos, and documentary works. It operates with its own equipment and cinematic setups based on brands such as Red, Blackmagic, and Sony.

Among its works, it has produced music videos for prominent national bands, including Subsonica, Oflaga Disco Pax, and Paolo Benvegnù, earning numerous national awards.

Furthermore, it is active in the field of audiovisual training and consulting, collaborating for known brands like Autodesk, Adobe, Apple and collaborating with prestigious organizations such as Rai – Radiotelevisione Italiana, Matrix Telecom Italia, the Italian Episcopal Conference, and BNP Paribas.

Convinced that success stems from goal-oriented teamwork, SIGNUM is part of various business networks, including BTAS – Business Tutor As a Service (www.btas.it), of which it is a founding member.
